

October Parental Survey Results Additional Questions

Any other comments.....

Can we receive update on whether/when replacement for Canon June will be recruited?

I am not religious

Great school & church connection. N. enjoys learning all about the different faiths

We thank you to Church and School administration for all the support and knowledge given to our family on the last few years, really appreciated and valued by all the members of the family.

If our children are made to fully understand that being confirmed is a choice of theirs alone and not anyone else's then I will support my children with whatever decision they make.

I think that the school spends a bit too much time on worship at the expense of other academic subjects.

Winwick's core values of love, respect and perseverance have certainly shone through and been displayed by all staff, pupils and the wider Team Winwick family through this year!!!
Thank you

It's such a shame Canon June has gone as she was so natural and friendly to how she reached the children about the church I hope the next person will have the same relationship and presence as she did

To consider other parents who have no knowledge of technology or very limited knowledge of computer usage, beside that the comment i can say is all of you are doing an amazing job and we do appreciate all of you.

Winwick CE primary has created a loving & supportive school community. Mrs Dymond and her team are absolutely great!

My child's emotional intelligence is as important to me as her academic achievement, it is important to me that school is able to nurture both. However, it is important to me that my child has enough time to achieve academic targets in school, without reliance on homework to compensate for the time spent in school on R.E. etc. However, that is a speculative statement, I don't have personal experience of this.

I think Winwick Primary is a wonderful school

It's a decent school for his education, that's all I want at this point, he doesn't talk about any of his lessons or school in general.